With Our Whole Hearts

Saint Paul bemoaned the fact that he was not free, but we are free, and that freedom is the power to achieve our desires, express our personality, and define our very self by the things we choose.

Even the selfish singer knows that when he roars, "I gotta be me!" he is expressing the true nature of freedom. He does not want to be free to do anything in particular; he wants to do only what he wants to do, not somebody else. By doing those things, he becomes what he chooses. In the end, freedom is the power to define our self, to create our self, to be what we want to be. Of course, some choices are more important than others. We add a different dimension to our self depending on whether the choice is dessert, car, or spouse. Let's take one of those for an example.

Of several hundred models, you choose a BMW convertible. That was not a whim; you did it on purpose and you did it with all your past experience brought to bear - your experience of speed and wind and thrill and image - along with your wish for the future. You wanted people to be impressed by the convertible and envious of the BMW.

Every single act of freedom in any direction helps form our personality. Day by day, choice by choice, we slowly fill out the contours of our self from every perspective. This song confirms our musical taste, that lie deepens our dishonesty level, that kind act increases our love quotient, and these decisions are strongly influenced by our entire past history, which means that every decision sets us up for the next free choice. Each of us is in an ongoing adventure, continuously creating ourselves anew.

Our freedom is limited by the number of people available to us, by the number of people to whom we are acceptable, by the unfathomable uniqueness of every person and by the great difficulty in bringing our total self to any particular decision. Thus, even in this most important, most personal act of freedom, we are still incapable of committing our total self to the absolute object of our greatest desire.

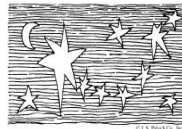

But what if there were someone who was able to embrace all of our difficult desires in one, and also attractive enough to engage our total freedom of choice? Then both factors of freedom would be in place, and we could finally define our self.

That someone is God of course - the source and goal of our freedom.

We must finally create our true self in the face of God. Some great saints do it early in life. Their fundamental choice of God becomes so overwhelming that other choices become insignificant. They can live in a cave or become a king or be killed.

You and I also choose God, but only as one of many other choices, which is why our personalities waffle so much. But one day we will choose God with our whole heart and mind and soul.

2015 CATHOLIC CHARITIES APPEAL

This weekend, throughout the Archdiocese of Philadelphia, we launch the 2015 Catholic Charities Appeal: Giving Hope.

The Archdiocese goal this year remains at 10 million dollars. This year, St. Ignatius' goal is $97,745.00, and as your Pastor, I am confident that, through your charity and generosity, we will get there. It is important that every parishioner do their part to raise the $97,745.00 because we are one family in Christ. Taking care of those who need help the most is one of the most important things we can do as Catholics.

During the week of January 26, 2015, you should have received a letter with brochure from the Catholic Charities Appeal Office.

You can make your donation to this year's Catholic Charities Appeal either by mailing your donation in the envelope that was mailed to you or by placing your donation in the Sunday collection clearly marking your donation for the Catholic Charities Appeal.

ST. IGNATIUS OF ANTIOCH SCHOOL"High Achievement ~ Higher Purpose"

From the desk of Mrs. DiTommaso:

Isn't it curious that it took the Apostles a long time to realize who Jesus really is but the demons recognize Him immediately? Jesus begins His day and His work in prayer. How can we keep ourselves united to Him and teach His words and His ways without a strong foundation of prayer? How can we teach our children to pray every day?

Thank you to all who helped us celebrate Catholic Schools Week. St. Ignatius is truly a community of caring and giving people.

We would like to offer congratulations to two groups of students who have excelled!

Our Future City won two awards at the competition. The team won an award for "A Creative Approach to Problem Solving" and an award for "Pride in Quality." The team members were: Veronica Cruz, Anthony Padula, Jeremy Peters, Nathan Swan, Adam Verga, Henry Glunz, Andrew Iannacone, Mateo Blanco, Stephen Bontempo, Schuyler Cauley, Krista Galasso, John Keating, Ciara Rago, Drew Sweitzer, Paul Tuccillo, Nicholo Valerio, and Charles White.

The team presenting at the competition was: Olivia Glunz, Henry Glunz, Veronica Cruz, and Jeremy Peters.

On Friday of Catholic Schools Week, we held our Annual Religious Bee. The representatives from each class were: Meredith Czyz, Isabelle Glunz, Alexandra Machek, Justin Lucas, Julianna Burke, Matthew Badman, Madeline Patrick, Stephen Cain, Molly O'Reilly, Liam Fleming, Olivia Glunz, Carolyn Moyer, Brandon McCoy, and Robert Phinn.

MUSIC "NOTES"

Dr. Frank Klose ~ Music Minister
Email: fklose@siparish.org
Phone: 267-670-3413

This weekend's readings are meant to be hopeful for the afflicted. Mark's Gospel often focuses on the acts of Jesus, and in today's Gospel reading Jesus is busy curing those with various diseases and illnesses.

Our gathering hymn, "The King of Glory" (#572) reminds us that Jesus goes among the people curing their illness. The weekend's responsorial psalm, found in today's readings (#1105) says, "Praise the Lord, who heals the broken hearted." "Jesus, Heal Us" (#952) and "You Are Mine" (#721) help us embrace the healing that Jesus offers.

Finally, "God Sends Us Forth" (#759), our recessional hymn, is a reminder that we play a role in the healing of others. Our responsibility is to "love and serve...make known God's name and live God's word, mirror God's love, reflect "God's grace" so that all can come to know Jesus' healing power.

If anyone is interested in joining any of the parish music ministries (choir, youth band, First Light), please contact Frank at the email address above.

ADORATION CHAPEL... We are truly blessed at St. Ignatius to have an Adoration Chapel. 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, someone is spending quiet time with our Eucharistic Lord, Jesus! You can too, anytime day or night - just come in and visit. Also if you would like to come at a set time each week, please consider taking one of the following hours:

Sunday - 3:00pm; Tuesday - 12:00am, 3:00am and 9:00am; Friday - 6:00pm; Saturday - 12:00pm. Also, if you would like to be a partner on Monday at 6:00pm or Saturday at 7:00pm, that would be appreciated. For more information about Eucharistic Adoration, kindly call Marianne Kloc for more information at 267-346-0152.

New Information for Chapel Closing: To find out if the Chapel is open or closed, kindly call 215-493-3377, extension 221. A recorded message will give you the latest information. We are phasing out calling our Adorers, so please call the information number provided and keep it handy for your convenience. It would be helpful to call anytime the weather is inclement to see if we have decided upon an extended closing. Thank you for your cooperation and commitment to Adoration of the Blessed Sacrament.

ST. IGNATIUS CYO ~ TRACK AND FIELD TEAM

A Red Rose Can Be Placed By The Respect Life Altar

The Respect Life Committee offers all parishioners the opportunity to dedicate our Rose for Life to a special occasion, person, or event. Just fill out one of the envelopes at the entrances of the church or adoration chapel and drop off in a collection basket or at the rectory. We will accommodate a special plaque to your request on the 'rose pedestal'. Also, please stop by our new Guadalupe shrine in the Reading Avenue entrance of the Church and say one Hail Mary to stop abortion.

"See, upon the palms of my hands I have engraved you." (Is:49:16). The challenge is to make the Church's 'yes' to life concrete and effective. The struggle will be long, and it needs each one of you. Place your intelligence, your talents, your enthusiasm, your compassion, and your fortitude at the service of life." (Pope St. John Paul II).

There are many who refer to themselves as 'pro-life', however, this is just 'lip-service'; they just talk the talk, but don't walk the walk. What actions do they perform in the war against life? Yes, it is a war and there are many casualties starting with the 56 million babies aborted since 1973; then there are the men and women who chose abortion, the families and children, our culture and the world, not to mention our souls. ALL are needed to succeed.

Our Lady of Guadalupe, pray for us.
