FOLLOWING THROUGH

Baptism marks the beginning of the believer's life in Christ. Although the sacramental initiative is an auspicious one, it is nevertheless only a beginning. In order for the seeds of grace that are sown in Baptism to grow to full flower and to bear the good fruit of an authentic faith life, believers must follow through from the moment of their Baptism to the end of their days. Following through means living a graced life rooted in a relationship with God, one that inspires and influences every other relationship and life experience.

For those who are graced with the sacrament of Baptism as infants, the responsibility for following through first rests upon parental shoulders. Until such time as baptismal promises are understood and owned by the growing believers, the adults in the child's life are the spiritual mentors. But if these adults do not follow through for the child, then the sacrament remains sterile, its graces untapped.

Those who come to Baptism as adults accept the responsibility to follow through for themselves. To foster the efforts of believers in the lifelong process of following through, the scripture selections of this weekend offer the example of the Isaiah servant. Called by God and commissioned for service, the Servant experienced what could be understood as a baptismal consecration and initiation. The Servant, chosen and uniquely graced for a ministry of justice, healing, and liberation, still had to claim God's grace, to appropriate it and follow through the promptings of grace until his "baptismal" profession had been realized in his words and in his works.

In this weekend's second reading from the Acts of the Apostles, Peter is featured in a watershed moment in the growth and development of the early Church. At his own Baptism, Peter understood that he was being claimed by Christ just as Peter himself declared his allegiance to Jesus. At Cornelius' home, through the illuminating power of the Holy Spirit he had received at his Baptism, Peter understood that his belonging to Christ required his all-inclusive embrace of the entire body of Christ in all its members. Peter had begun to understand the impartiality of God, and as a baptized believer, he was challenged to be open and welcoming to all others in Christ.

In our gospel from St. Mark, believers are reassured of the support of God's grace in living out the promises that were made and the commitment that was begun at Baptism. To illustrate this truth, St. Mark offers us a literary and theological window into the Baptism of Jesus. Like Jesus, we have been baptized with water, and like Jesus, we have received the Holy Spirit through our baptismal anointing. We for our part, are to heed the voice that spoke from the heavens on that day and to recognize Jesus as the beloved Son of God whom we are to emulate in all we are, in all we do.

This same Jesus will support our efforts in making our own his mission of justice, healing, and liberation. This same beloved Son, who is Brother to all, will enable us to see beyond race, gender, nationality, and all other possible human limitations, so as to welcome others without exception in to the community of Jesus.

This very Jesus, who submitted to baptism in order to be immersed in the human condition, will guide our growth and inspire our efforts as long as we continue to follow his lead. In our faithful following, we will be able to avail ourselves of the daily graces that God gives to all who are trying to follow through in keeping the promises and realizing the commitment of their baptism.

FOURTH ANNUAL BABY BOTTLES FOR LIFE

This weekend, please consider taking a bottle to fill with your spare change and help change a life! Bottles will be distributed at the end of all Masses this weekend and collected on the weekend of January 17th and 18th.

Legacy of Life Foundation funds two local crisis pregnancy centers. Many of the women who come through our doors believe abortion is their only option. The centers provide counseling, materials, and financial support for women so that they are able to receive the truth about their choice and live a healthy good life. Our centers have saved over 260 babies in 2014 alone, and, with your help, we can reach our goal to save over 300 babies in 2015!

We are asking that you take a bottle home and fill it with checks, coins or bills, and return them to the church the following weekend when you come to Mass. A bassinet will be replaced in the vestibule of the church and volunteers will be available to collect bottles on their return. Any checks should be made payable to St. Ignatius Memo: LOLE.

To find out more about life saving work, please watch a brief video at www.legacyoflifefoundation.org. To find out about volunteer opportunities, please call 215-788-4051 or visit www.legacyoflifefoundation.org.

TO: The Parishioners of St. Ignatius Parish
FROM: Donna Farrell, Archdiocesan Coordinator for the World Meeting of Families - September 2015

So many people have asked "How can I help with the World Meeting of Families - Philadelphia 2015? We have one way!

We expect thousands and thousands of visitors from around the U.S. and the world to join us next September and there is now a host family program to supplement the hotel rooms in the region. We need host families!

Homestay, A Dublin company, works every day to match host families with visitors with an online system and they created a special online host family site just for WMOF 2015. Parishioners, school families, and other area residents can easily sign up online to be host families. Hosts list specific accommodations they can offer, household rules, and language preferences on the website and visitors search for a match.

Please help us share this opportunity with your community and spread the word about hosting a family by directing people to our website: www.worldmeeting2015.org under Host a Family or directly at <http://bit.ly/HostAFamily>.

If you have any questions about Homestay, please email host@worldmeeting2015.org. Thank you for your support at this exciting time.

Sunday - 3:00pm; Tuesday - 12:00am, 3:00am and 9:00am; Friday - 6:00pm; Saturday - 12:00pm. Also, if you would like to be a partner on Monday at 6:00pm or Saturday at 7:00pm, that would be appreciated. For more information about Eucharistic Adoration, kindly call Marianne Kloc for more information at 267-346-0152.

New Information for Chapel Closing: To find out if the Chapel is open or closed, kindly call 215-493-3377, extension 221. A recorded message will give you the latest information. We are phasing out calling our Adorers, so please call the information number provided and keep it handy for your convenience. It would be helpful to call anytime the weather is inclement to see if we have decided upon an extended closing. Thank you for your cooperation and commitment to Adoration of the Blessed Sacrament.

A Red Rose Can Be Placed By The Respect Life Altar

Please say a prayer at the new Our Lady of Guadalupe shrine. She is the patroness of the Americas and the Mother of God and closest to our Lord for favor. If you are not aware of the Guadalupe story, it is on a plaque in the shrine grotto.

"I came so that they might have life and have it more abundantly." (John 10:10).

We are all created in the image and likeness of God; Jesus became man to elevate our fallen humanity to His divinity, so that we may have a taste of Divine Life. THAT is our destiny; THAT is why we were created; it is OF His love, through His love and by His love that we exist. We are all called to that destiny. We are all called to be saints. Our most valuable gift is our life, without which we would not exist. We will exist for all eternity. When we die, our bodies are temporarily separated from our souls. They will be reunited at the Second Coming, i.e. we GET our resurrected bodies back for all of eternity, because they are sacred Temples of the Holy Spirit. We must respect life.

Our Lady of Guadalupe, pray for us.
